RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

12. This case involves ongoing defamation, and an ongoing conspiracy to defame Plaintiff. Consequently, Plaintiff reserves the right to add allegations to the Complaint as the facts become available to Plaintiff.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

13. Plaintiff is a New Jersey branch of the World Mission Society Church of God. The World Mission Society Church of God, with its roots in Christianity, was founded in 1964. The Church has over 1.2 million members in about 150 countries around the world, with several branches across the United States.

14. Plaintiff is a non-profit organization that, beyond sharing its members' faith and beliefs, does good works in its community. Plaintiff has received several accolades for its community service. Most recently, Plaintiff's members and several of the Church's branches has been awarded Presidential Volunteer Service Awards. The President's Council on Service and Civic Participation created this award as a way to recognize and thank volunteers who make valuable contributions to their communities and who also, by their demonstrated commitment and example, inspire others to serve their communities.

15. Defendant and Newton have staged a massive and extensive defamatory attack on Plaintiff's reputation, both in public and on the Internet.

16. Defendant's and Newton's defamatory campaign began in or around July 2011, and is continuous and ongoing.

17. Defendant's attack on Plaintiff consists of the widespread publication of false and defamatory statements about Plaintiff. The statements are injurious to Plaintiff's name and reputation and expose Plaintiff to public contempt and aversion.

18. Defendant acted with a total disregard for the rights of Plaintiff. Beyond the intentional conduct alleged herein, this fact is further evinced by Defendant's use of phony Internet handles in an attempt to mask her identity and avoid being held accountable by Plaintiff.

19. Defendant's defamatory statements have seriously damaged, and continue to seriously damage, Plaintiff.

20. Plaintiff has lost members who have been intimidated by Defendant's attacks on Plaintiff. Members who fear harassment at work and in public have left the Church. Moreover, Plaintiff is losing prospective membership because of Defendant's conduct.

21. Plaintiff has lost prospective donative revenue from members, potential members, and other benefactors.

I. PUBLIC DEFAMATORY ATTACKS

22. On July 19, 2011, and September 6, 2011, ~~the Village of Ridgewood, New~~ Jersey Planning Board held public hearings concerning Plaintiff's application to extend its building. The purpose of these town hall style meetings was to determine whether Plaintiff should be granted a variance approval and exception from design standard to construct building improvements.

23. Colon attended both meetings. At the meetings Colon attacked Plaintiff by telling persons at the meeting that Plaintiff "damage[s] families, [and] ruined [her] marriage." Colon stated that "the Church takes its members' money."

24. Newton attended the meeting on September 6, 2011, where he secretly video recorded the second meetings' proceedings and persons present using his iPad tablet computer.

25. Colon actively encouraged other persons to attend the Planning Board meetings to defame Plaintiff and block its efforts at obtaining a variance approval from the Ridgewood Planning Board.

26. Plaintiff has not been granted a variance approval.

27. Colon's defamatory attacks are continuous and ongoing. As recently as June 27, 2012, Colon appeared at a child-custody trial in New York, during which she repeatedly made outlandish, derogatory, defamatory, and blatantly false statements concerning the World Mission Society, Church of God.

28. Colon's June 27, 2012 "testimony" included statements that:

- a. Plaintiff forces mothers to give their children wine;
- b. Plaintiff forces mothers to have their children-fast;
- c. Plaintiff keeps children in a room all day, and refuses to let them leave;
and,
- d. Plaintiff destroyed Colon's marriage by ordering her husband to divorce her.

29. Beyond these instances of public defamation, Colon and Newton have further attacked Plaintiff on the Internet by posting false and defamatory statements on the social media website www.facebook.com ("Facebook") and on business review websites, by posting false and defamatory statements on Internet blogs, and by creating videos containing false and defamatory statements and uploading them to the website www.youtube.com ("YouTube").

II. INTERNET DEFAMATORY ATTACKS

A. Facebook

30. Newton has organized and currently administers an Internet group dedicated to attacking Plaintiff on Facebook. Newton named this group "Former Members World Mission Society Church of God Cult" ("Facebook Group").

31. Through the Facebook Group, Newton and Colon have worked in concert and have conspired both to publish defamatory statements about Plaintiff and to solicit other members of the public to join them in their attack against Plaintiff and its reputation.

32. Colon uses the handle "Wmscog Ex-Member" to post comments on the website dedicated to the Facebook Group. All conduct herein alleged to have been performed by "Wmscog Ex-Member" is alleged to have been performed by Colon.

33. "Wmscog Ex-Member" encouraged Facebook Group members "with aliases"—that is, with false Internet handles to hide their identities—to "feel free to combat . . . comments on the bottom of [an] article" published by the online newspaper NorthJersey.com praising Plaintiff's and its members' volunteer flood damage cleanup efforts with their own comments.

34. "Wmscog Ex-Member" also encouraged members of the Facebook Group to attend a third scheduled Ridgewood Planning Board meeting to attack Plaintiff's reputation at the public hearing as a way to block Plaintiff's efforts at gaining a variance approval.

35. Upon information and belief, Newton uses the handle "James Newton" to post comments on the Facebook Group online message board. All conduct herein alleged to have been performed by "James Newton" is alleged to have been performed by Newton.

36. "James Newton" published the false and defamatory statement that Plaintiff "totally ha[s] to be laundering money" on the Facebook Group website.

B. Business Review Websites

37. Colon has launched an extensive defamatory attack against Plaintiff by publishing false and defamatory statements about Plaintiff on various online business review websites.

38. Colon uses the handles "Hailey Stevens," "haileystevens," "HaileyStevens," and "Hailey" to post comments about Plaintiff on the Internet. All statements herein alleged to have been published by any of these aliases are alleged to have been published by Colon.

39. The company Local.com offers one of the most widely recognized networks of local search websites. It owns or manages over 100,000 geo-category domain sites. These websites operate essentially as online yellow pages through which Internet users can obtain contact and location information for businesses and organizations and can also post their reviews of the same.

40. When a user posts a statement to the website www.local.com or to one of Local.com's other 100,000 plus affiliated websites, the user causes that post to be published on each of Local.com's affiliated websites.

41. "haileystevens" posted seven separate defamatory reviews about Plaintiff on the website www.local.com, or one of Local.com's affiliated websites, thereby causing the statements to be published on www.local.com and Local.com's affiliated websites.

42. In these defamatory reviews, "haileystevens" published the false and defamatory statements that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "destroy[s] families!!!" She further stated that Plaintiff "will destroy your family and take all of your money."

43. Beyond posting on potentially tens of thousands of Local.com websites, Colon published false and defamatory statements about Plaintiff on several other similar business review websites.

44. "Hailey Stevens" posted two defamatory reviews about Plaintiff on the review website www.yellowbot.com, including the false and defamatory statements that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "wil [sic] destroy your family and take all of your money," that Plaintiff's organization constitutes "Religious Fraud," and that "[m]any have had their marriages and families torn apart by this destructive mind control group."

45. "Hailey" published false and defamatory statements that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "will destroy your family and take all of your money!!!" to the review website www.meriden.patch.com.

46. "Hailey" published two defamatory reviews on the website www.santec.patch.com. She published the false and defamatory statements that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "will destroy your family and take all of your money!!!" and that Plaintiff "destroy[s] families!"

47. "HaileyStevens" published the false and defamatory statements that "[t]he World Mission Society Church of God[. . . deceive[s] people into listening to them" and that "the World Mission Society Church of God . . . purposefully withhold[s] information in order to deceptively recruit" on the website www.findlocal.latimes.com.

48. "HaileyStevens" published the false and defamatory statements that Plaintiff "destroy[s] families" on the website www.aidpage.com and that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "destroy[s] families" on the website www.kudzu.com.

49. "Hailey" published the false and defamatory statement that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "destroy[s] families and rob[s] people of their money" on the website www.socialcurrent.org.

50. "Hailey" published the false and defamatory statement that Plaintiff is a "religious cult" that "wil [sic] destroy your family and take all of your money" both on the website www.chamberofcommerce.com and on the website www.dexknows.com.

51. "Hailey" published the false and defamatory statements that Plaintiff "so called church is a cult" that "will tear apart your marriage and your family," and that Plaintiff "brainwash[es] members in order to take all of their money from them" on the website www.maps.google.com.

C. Internet Discussion Forums

52. Defendant has further attacked Plaintiff by publishing false and defamatory statements about Plaintiff on various Internet discussion forums.

53. The Rick A. Ross Institute of New Jersey operates the website www.rickross.com. The website is entitled "The Ross Institute Internet Archives for the Study of Destructive Cults, Controversial Groups and Movements." This website hosts forums in which Internet users may post comments. Under the "'Cults,' Sects, and 'New Religious Movements'" forum ("Forum"), the website hosts a conversation thread entitled "Ahnsahngong," which is the name of the Church's founder.

54. Defendant Colon uses this Forum to spread harmful defamatory statements about Plaintiff and to direct readers to other defamatory sources, including videos uploaded to YouTube.

55. Upon information and belief, Colon uses the handle "Hailey" to post comments to the Forum. All statements herein alleged to have been published to the Forum by "Hailey" are alleged to have been published by Colon.

56. "Hailey" directed Forum readers to a YouTube video she claims "explains how the World Mission Society Church of God destroys families" and to another that discusses alleged "connections between the World Mission Society Church of God and Big Shine Worldwide[,] Inc."

57. "Hailey" accused Plaintiff of being "a destructive mind control cult" on the Forum.

58. Beyond the outright defamatory comments on the Forum, "Hailey" has falsely implied that Plaintiff, a tax-exempt non-profit corporation, has an inappropriate financial relationship with the for-profit corporation Big Shine Worldwide, Inc., the president of which happens also to be Plaintiff's pastor. She has also falsely implied that Plaintiff lies to the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") about this alleged connection and its connections to other branches of the Church.

59. "Hailey" suggested an inappropriate financial relationship exists between Plaintiff and Big Shine Worldwide, Inc. because "[t]he 'higher ups' of the World Mission Society Church of God has a clear connection to the 'higher ups' of . . . Big Shine Worldwide, Inc.," and because Big Shine Worldwide, Inc. has locations in other countries in which the Church also has a presence. "Hailey" rhetorically asked, "Why such a strong connection to a [sic] Big Shine Worldwide?"

60. "Hailey's" statements imply that Plaintiff is hiding some financial connection to Big Shine Worldwide, Inc. from the IRS and this implication is strengthened by her directing readers to YouTube to view her video further discussing alleged "connections between the World Mission Society Church of God and Big Shine Worldwide[,] Inc."

61. "Hailey" claimed that Plaintiff lies to the IRS and that she would "expose the inconsistencies between what the World Mission Society Church of God says and what they report to the IRS." "Hailey" claimed that Plaintiff "LIES ABOUT HOW THEIR [sic] CHURCH WAS FOUNDED ON THEIR [sic] TAX EXEMPT STATUS!"

62. "Hailey" claimed that because Plaintiff and the other branches of the Church report to the IRS independently, Plaintiff "denies that [it] ha[s] any relationship to another organization despite having a clear connection to the WMSCOG in California" and despite being "controlled by the main location" in South Korea.

63. "Hailey" stated that the different branches of the church report separately to the IRS in "an attempt to minimize the appearance of their growth and remain under the IRS's radar" to falsely imply that Plaintiff is lying to and misrepresenting its corporate status to the IRS.

64. Although Plaintiff may look to the headquarter Church in South Korea for guidance, Plaintiff and the other Church branches in America are separately organized entities for financial and tax purposes. The American branches are independent corporate entities and report as such to the IRS.

65. Colon's statements impart the false inferences that Plaintiff lies to the IRS and that Plaintiff is hiding a corporate relationship with Big Shine Worldwide, Inc.

66. These statements are reasonably read to impart the false inferences.

67. These statements affirmatively show that Colon adopts the inferences the statements impart.

68. The false inferences are defamatory.

D. Defendant Newton's Website

69. Newton operates a website and discussion forum dedicated to attacking the Church: www.examinethewmscog.com ("Newton Website").

70. Colon is a correspondent to the Newton Website who has administrative access to the site. See Exhibit 1 at ¶ 6.

71. Colon acted in concert with and conspired with Newton to publish false and defamatory statements about Plaintiff on the Newton Website.

i. Five-Part Series

72. Colon posted a five-part series from a correspondent from New Jersey, who is Colon. See Exhibit 2. The title of this series is "How The WMSCOG Turned My Life Upside Down."

73. Colon published each of the five parts to the Newton Website.

74. The series purports to tell of Colon's recruitment to and her exit from the Church.

75. In this five-part series, Colon stated that Plaintiff sought to break up her marriage. She stated that Plaintiff "blatant[ly] attempt[ed] to cannibalize all of [her] husband's time in order to keep him away from [her]" and that "involvement [with Plaintiff] continued to turn [her] husband against [her]." In relating how she gave her husband an ultimatum concerning their marriage Colon said she told him, "[i]t was the cult or me."

76. Colon claimed Plaintiff "destroyed her marriage" and that the Church is a "destructive organization."

77. In addition to the outright defamatory comments, Defendant has falsely implied that Plaintiff is a cult that destroys families by publishing what Colon allegedly learned "[d]uring [her] research on the World Mission Society Church of God."

78. Colon stated that "an obvious pattern emerged" as Colon "read story after story about how the WMSCOG had either ruined their marriage or family." With respect to her own marriage, Colon claimed, "the WMSCOG was driving [her husband] crazy."

79. Defendant Colon falsely implied that Plaintiff is a cult that uses mind control tactics and sleep deprivation to control its members. Colon claimed her husband was called to engage in religious training with Plaintiff but that "[t]he goal of this training sounded unrealistic and seemed like a ploy to set members up to fail."

80. Colon asked rhetorical questions to support her false implications, such as, “Why not set unattainable goals for your members to keep them focused, working hard, and feeling guilty and inadequate when they can not meet your demands?”

81. Colon further stated that “[t]he WMSCOG was keeping . . . both [Colon and her husband] sleep deprived” because her husband would stay up late to study religious teachings and would wake up early to pray.

82. Colon further supported the false and defamatory implication that Plaintiff is a cult by publishing Colon’s alleged research about Plaintiff on the Newton Website.

83. Colon published “[t]he most disturbing information that [Colon] had come across” which “was that the WMSCOG was said to have been using the same mind control tactics used on US prisoners of war in N. Korea.” Colon stated that she “could not ignore the similarities to what she had experienced in the WMSCOG.”

84. Together, these statements impart the false and defamatory inferences that Plaintiff is a destructive organization that tears families apart and uses militaristic mind control and sleep deprivation tactics to control its members.

85. These statements are reasonably read to impart these false inferences.

86. The statements affirmatively show that Defendant adopts the inferences the statements impart.

87. These false inferences are defamatory.

ii. “The WMSCOG ‘Awarded by President Obama’?”

88. Defendant also falsely implied on the Newton Website that Plaintiff fraudulently deceived the Points of Light Institute—the organization that awards the Presidential Volunteer Service Award—to get that accolade.

07/17/2012 23:19 9737487655

89. Defendant published a "news" article entitled "The WMSCOG 'Awarded by President Obama'?" on the Newton Website.

90. In this article, Defendant falsely implied that it is impermissible for an organization to certify the volunteer hours of its own members or other branches and that Plaintiff impermissibly awarded itself the award by stating that Plaintiff "should not have nominated their Ridgewood, New Jersey location for the award since the 'certifying organization' would in essence be awarding [itself]."

91. Defendant supports her false implications by claiming this information comes straight from a "representative of the Presidential Volunteer Service Award office."

92. Organizations are permitted to certify the volunteer hours of their own members and other branches of the same organization so that they may be recognized by this national award.

93. Defendant Colon and Newton further state that their "church isn't signing up to nominate itself 'to receive such a prestigious award,'" to imply that Plaintiff's conduct was wrongful and fraudulent.

94. Defendant's statements impart the false and defamatory inference that Plaintiff employed deceit to be recognized and honored for its members' volunteer work by the Points of Light Institute.

95. These statements are reasonably read to impart this false inference.

96. The statements affirmatively show that Defendant adopts the inference the statements impart.

97. This false inference is defamatory.

E. YouTube Videos

98. Defendant Colon posted defamatory videos damaging to Plaintiff on YouTube.

99. Colon created a series of videos using a movie making service provided by the company Xtranormal. Xtranormal offers a service through its website that allows Internet users to create cartoon videos. Xtranormal provides stock characters and backgrounds—the user provides the dialogue content. The characters in the video repeat the text provided by the creator.

100. Colon provided the text repeated by the cartoon characters in the videos she created and uploaded to YouTube.

101. Upon information and belief, Colon used the Internet handle “HaileyStevens10” to upload these videos to YouTube. All conduct herein alleged to have been performed by “HaileyStevens10” is alleged to have been performed by Colon.

102. “HaileyStevens10” uploaded one such video, entitled “The World Mission Society Church of God – Destroys Families” (“Destroys Families Video”), to YouTube. In this video, Colon made several false and defamatory statements about Plaintiff including the following:

- a. “The World Mission Society Church of God uses mind control tactics on its members in order to tear them apart from their families.”
- b. “The World Mission Society Church of God uses fear and guilt as their main tactics.”
- c. “The World Mission Society Church of God uses fear to prevent its members from going on vacation.”
- d. “The World Mission Society Church of God uses sleep deprivation as a means to make their members more vulnerable to the indoctrination process.”

07/17/2012 23:19 9737487655

e. "Every waking moment must be focused on controlling the member's mind."

103. The statements in the Destroys Families Video are false and defamatory.

104. "HaileyStevens10" also uploaded a video entitled "World Mission Society Church of God - Public Financial Info" ("Financial Info Video").

105. In the Financial Info Video, Colon falsely implies that World Mission Society is disguising a financial connection to Big Shine Worldwide, Inc. from the IRS.

106. Colon states that the Plaintiff "does not provide any form of financial disclosure to its members," and asks, "so where does the money go?"

107. Colon states that Plaintiff denies to the IRS that "the organization has a direct business relationship through ownership of another entity."

108. "This is where it gets interesting, folks," she claims as she states that Plaintiff's pastor and registered agent, Dong Il Lee, owns Big Shine Worldwide, Inc. and that the pastor of another branch of the Church, Jae Hoon Lee, is the Secretary of Big Shine Worldwide, Inc. This, Colon claims, "is a clear business relationship."

109. Colon states, "Well, one can assume that Jae Hoon Lee as Secretary of Big Shine Worldwide. . . is getting a paycheck from Ridgewood, New Jersey WMSCOG pastor and owner of Big Shine Worldwide, Dong Il Lee."

110. Colon states further that "[t]he discovery that Big Shine Worldwide has such close connections to the World Missions Society Church of God is quite suspect," and tells viewers that they "may want to compare the locations that Big Shine does business in and compare them to the locations where the World Mission Society Church of God operates. You will be surprised to see the amount of overlap, not just in the U.S. but overseas as well."

111. Together these statements impart the false and defamatory inferences that not only does Plaintiff disguise a business relationship with another corporate entity from the IRS but that Plaintiff also is misusing its funds to pay expenses of that corporate entity.

112. These statements are reasonably read to impart those false inferences.

113. The statements affirmatively show that Colon adopts the inferences the statements impart.

114. The false inferences are defamatory.

115. In the Financial Info Video, Colon also falsely implies that Plaintiff lies to the IRS about the source of its funds.

116. Colon claims in the video that she is reading an IRS filing from one of the Church's branches in the video and notes that the form reports receipt of "a little over $26,000 from a, quote, parental church." She implies that this is untruthful and suspect because the form does not also report a corporate subsidiary relationship to its parent Church headquartered in South Korea.

117. Plaintiff is not a corporate subsidiary of the parent Church.

118. Colon also falsely implies that the Church lies to the IRS about where the money it receives is going.

119. In the Financial Info Video, Colon notes that the branch claimed "$300,000 in missionary expenses" but states that Plaintiff's members pay their own expenses when they do missionary work, falsely implying that Plaintiff lied to the IRS about how this money was actually spent.

07/17/2012 23:19 9737487655

120. Colon promises "[m]ore information on the WMSCOG's questionable business connections and tax filings to come."

121. Colon's statements impart the false inference that Plaintiff lies to the IRS about the source of and how it uses its funding.

122. The statements affirmatively show that Colon adopts the inferences the statements impart.

123. These false inferences are defamatory.

124. All of the herein alleged statements or inferences are false and defamatory.

125. Defendant made these statements knowing the statements, or the inferences to be drawn from them, were false or, in the alternative, made the statements with reckless disregard for the truth of the statements or inferences.

F. Ridgewood.patch.com

126. Upon information and belief, Colon used the Internet handle "Tommy" to post defamatory comments about Plaintiff on the website Ridgewood.patch.com. All conduct herein alleged to have been performed by "Tommy" is alleged to have been performed by Colon.

127. "Tommy" posted a link on ridgewood.patch.com that leads readers to the forum discussed in ¶¶ 47-53, in which "Hailey" (Colon) falsely accuses Plaintiff of lying to the IRS on their application for tax exempt status.

128. Defendant's conduct has seriously damaged and continues to seriously damage Plaintiff.

129. The Court should award punitive damages to Plaintiff for Defendant's intentional, malicious, outrageous, and oppressive actions evidencing a conscious and knowing disregard for the rights and welfare of Plaintiff.
